

Render farm management is business-critical to any organization that relies on the timely delivery of rendered images to their clients. Don't get caught without access to technical support or software upgrades when you need them the most.

Maximize your investment in PipelineFX software with annual subscription offered in two programs:

STANDARD SUBSCRIPTION

PipelineFX Standard Subscription is required in the first year and includes:

- Software updates (major and minor releases) - Stay current with the latest releases of Qube! and benefit from new features, application interfaces and improved performance and usability.
- Technical Support (Email, phone and remote) - Get back online quickly working with Qube! and render pipeline experts to resolve issues and keep your render farm rendering

PLATINUM SUBSCRIPTION

PipelineFX Platinum Subscription is available to sites of 200 Workers or more in one location and includes all of the features of Standard Subscription plus:

- Priority technical support for all software upgrades - have a PipelineFX engineer logged in remotely during software upgrades to monitor the process and reduce risk.
- 2 days per year of on-site consulting - a render pipeline expert will review your infrastructure and pipeline and provide advice and services to optimize your rendering workflow.
- Annual product validation participation - help drive the Qube! roadmap and prioritize new features
- Seat on PipelineFX Advisory Council (annual Siggraph mtg) - network with your peers managing large render farms and discuss the unique challenges larger render pipelines face.
- Discounts on QCA training classes - get more staff trained for less!
